

Food Safety and Quality Policy

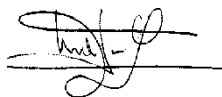

UNION REXI CEO wants to make clear, through this Food Safety and Quality Policy, its commitment to contribute to improving the satisfaction of our customers, ensuring quality and food safety requirements in our production activities and distribution of the different products we produce and / or transform, all within the framework of our quality management system and food security, developed according to the requirements established by international referential ISO 22000.

By this we emphasize the importance for us to meet all specifications and requirements demanded by our customers, in addition to permanently take into account legal requirements of hygiene and food safety that affect our business, our staff and our facilities.

UNION REXI CEO has defined this Quality and Food Safety Policy applicable to all our activity, which includes the following general objectives:

- ✓ Comply with applicable laws and regulations concerning food and environmental safety, while providing its customers with products and services according to their needs and the requirements of Quality and Safety Product.
- ✓ Establish a quality and food safety's management system that include the protection of the environment and promoting continuous improvement in a safe and sustainable environment, avoiding costs caused by non-compliance products
- ✓ Encourage the use of products and cleaning and disinfection practices in our facilities and management of waste from our activity that are respectful of the environment and whose impact on staff that applies to a minimum.
- ✓ Assume in front of our customers the responsibilities that may arise from our activities and products in all aspects related to the environment and food security, both our products and our facilities.
- ✓ Assume in front of our customers ethical responsibilities applied both in our business relationships with customers and suppliers and hiring our staff.
- ✓ • Make available to interested parties all information regarding the traceability of all our products marketed as a way to demonstrate the effectiveness of our system.
- ✓ Continuously improve the effectiveness of the quality and food security's management system by periodic assessment of the results and verifications.
- ✓ A commitment to job responsibility and promote it among workers
- ✓ Promote awareness of our staff and suppliers in the principles contained in this Policy, promoting training and the establishment of good health and safety practices.

UNION REXI CEO agree that this policy is widespread and adopted by all company personnel, regularly reviewing their content and adapting it to our activities and to the overall strategy of the company

Carlet, 16th FEBRUARY 2015
Signed: Bernardo Josa

